

Certified Foodservice Professional Toolkit

A step-by-step guide to becoming a
Certified Foodservice Professional

About CFSP

The Certified Foodservice Professional (CFSP) Program was established in 1987 and remains the most important industry certification for foodservice professionals. Today, NAFEM's CFSP program helps raise the standards and quality of industry professionals by offering continuing development opportunities and special recognition for this proud achievement.

Steps to Certification

Step 1: Create an account

Go to the CFSP section of NAFEM's website and click on "Create an Account" and provide your contact information to set up your login credentials.

Step 2: Submit foodservice activity for credit

Sign into your account via NAFEM's Member Dashboard. Select "Certification Status" and scroll down the page to "Add New Activity". From the list, select the type of activity you're submitting and complete the necessary information.

Attach documentation that proves you completed/attended your activity. Your activity submission will not be approved without documentation. Accepted backup documentation includes a copy of a badge, certificate, diploma or something that clearly shows your name and the name/date of the event to directly prove participation.

The only activity that will not need documentation is The NAFEM Show. NAFEM has attendee databases starting from 2009, so we can verify your show attendance for you. Enter the show dates/years you attended, but documentation/proof is not necessary. For a list of accepted activities, see our CFSP Credit Accumulation Worksheet on page 6.

Step 3: Credit approval

Once your CFSP activities are submitted, they are reviewed within 48 hours. Upon review you will receive notification that your submission was approved or denied. You need a total of 35 approved CFSP credits to take the exam.

Step 4: Purchase study materials

Once 35 credits are approved, you can purchase CFSP study materials. The study materials include a 20-chapter textbook and either an online or in-person overview. NAFEM offers four (4) study bundle options in English, two (2) study bundles in Spanish and two (2) study bundles in Mandarin. We also have a la carte study resources available. See more CFSP study bundle details on page 4.

Step 5: Take the exam

The CFSP Online Exam must be administered by a proctor. All proctors are CFSPs who do not work at your current company. To find a local proctor or schedule your exam, contact Rebecca Laschober at rlaschober@nafem.org. It is your responsibility to contact the proctor of your choosing and set up a time/location for your online exam. It is the proctor's responsibility to contact NAFEM for the actual exam. You must pass the exam with a score of 75% or higher within one year of purchasing your study materials. You will immediately be notified if you passed your exam and can print your certificate that day.

Step 6: Maintain certification

To maintain your certification, you need to pay dues ($25/year) and participate in one credit-earning activity each year. While one credit is required each year to maintain your certification, there is no limit on how many credits you can earn. At the start of the new year, you will technically be inactive until that year's dues have been paid and you have received approval for one CFSP credit for the previous year. After five years of inactivity, your CFSP account will be deactivated. If you wish to reinstate your certification after five years, you will need to start over, from Step 1, earn 35 credits and retake the exam.

FAQs

How long does it take for the materials to arrive once I purchase my CFSP study bundle?

Allow 3-4 business days for print-on-demand textbooks to arrive. Digital bundles (e-books) are emailed and ready for download instantly.

What is NAFEM's CFSP In-person Overview and when is it offered?

The In-person Overview is a day-long CFSP overview seminar offered annually at NAFEM's Chicago headquarters. For information on the next Overview see NAFEM's Events page.

Do you offer group or company-hosted CFSP certification prep?

Yes, for group pricing contact Rebecca Laschober at rlaschober@nafem.org.

How do I update my foodservice industry activities to earn additional credits?

Sign into your account to report industry activities and view your certification records and status. Remember, you must provide proof of attendance to earn credits: simply scan supporting documents to your computer and upload them to your account.

Are there different levels of CFSP designation I can work toward?

There are three levels of achievement in the CFSP program. You advance naturally through the levels of certification as you earn the required number of credits:

Level III: 35 (minimum number of credits required to take the CFSP exam) to 54 credits accumulated

Level II: 55 to 74 credits accumulated

Level I: 75+ credits accumulated

Can I include a CFSP logo on my website?

Once you have been certified, you can add the designation to your email signatures and any day-to-day business communications. The logo (.jpg) is available for you to download and proudly showcase!

Can I get a refund or transfer my payment to someone else?

Once you authorize payment for a CFSP bundle or any a la carte item, you will not be eligible to receive a refund or transfer payments.

Do you need assistance getting started on your CFSP journey?
